Health and Wellbeing policy

OLLY is committed to providing a workplace environment which actively promotes the positive health and wellbeing for all who utilise our Centre. OLLY understands that our employees are our most valued resource and as a result their health and wellbeing is crucial to the effective running of all our work activities. In addition to our legal health and safety duties, we will be proactively promoting good workplace health and enable good workplace health and enable good workplace wellbeing.

OLLY encourages the development of a work environment that sees all the employees taking a positive interest on their own and others health and wellbeing. Through our health and wellbeing promotion, we aim for employees to take their knowledge and behaviour into the home environment and further to continue the spread of health and wellbeing messages

OLLYS commitment to maintaining a healthy active and positive workforce includes:

- An environment that supports and promotes physical activity, access to healthy choice foods.

- Promotion of all health and safety policies and practices

- Reducing the opportunities for accidents and incidents

- Access to fresh drinking water

- Linking to local and national campaigns and promotions

- Provision of healthy food on training courses

- Encourage employees to take responsibility for their own health and wellbeing
